

PARKING

Parking on Friday, November 2nd and Saturday, November 3rd will be available to a select number of guests in the Law School parking lot. You will need to be buzzed in at the gate on Friday and given a day parking pass to avoid being ticketed (be sure to also get a pass for Saturday if you are returning). Please see Ali Prince (contact information below) when you arrive to receive your parking passes.

If the select number of guest passes are gone, there is a visitor's lot on Science Dr. across the street from Fuqua's School of Business. There you can pay the machine and put the receipt in your dash, paying in advance for the length of time you expect to stay. There's also paid parking at the Bryan Center parking garage, but it's a bit farther away. Please see http://parking.duke.edu/parking/visitor_parking/index.php for more information, including maps on how to find these lots.

Duke students should park in the Chemistry lot on Saturday if they have a valid parking permit.
